To Whom It May Concern:

Laura Schroff, author of the "Invisible Thread," recently visited Bay Middle School and spoke to our 8th graders. Our students and staff read the book and were very excited to see the author in person. Ms. Schroff spoke to our students for nearly an hour and then spent more time answering the students' questions. What happened next was the most important part of the visit. Ms. Schroff went into the classrooms and worked with the students for the next 6 hours. She personally signed over 150 copies of her book and spent quality time with the students. The message of the novel came through in her actions with the students which in turn, inspired the students. "The Invisible Thread" has become a theme for our 8th grade class this school year.

Sincerely,

Sean P. McAndrews
